

Artemis Service Level Agreement 2017-2018

Artemis is the artefact and art lending service for schools and colleges.

We provide an exciting and extensive range of artefacts and original works of art which can be borrowed to use in the classroom to bring an engaging new dimension to your teaching and learning, stimulating creative thinking, discussion, investigation, analysis, research and powerful emotional responses.

Whether you are in primary, secondary, further or higher education, or whether you are an academy, local authority or independent school, you can borrow objects from the Artemis collection to work with in your setting.

The collection is truly amazing and needs to be seen to be believed. It consists of over 10,000 artefacts, covering a broad range of history topics, natural history and science objects, cultural and religious artefacts from around the world, design and technology items, as well as 3000 original works of art including paintings, drawings, prints, photographs, ceramics and sculpture, many by artists of local and national significance.

The SLA provides you with artefact loans each lasting for five weeks, delivered back to back direct to school on scheduled delivery dates throughout the academic year. Each loan covers up to 3 topics or subjects and is made up of approximately 15 artefacts. In addition, you can borrow up to 20 original works of art from our collection which we will deliver to school and you keep for the whole academic year.
