

Sketchbooks in School

Demystifying the use of sketchbooks!

Thursday 2nd February 2017, Leeds City Academy, 4.00pm – 5.30pm

Delivered by experienced visual artist, Lou Sumray, this session will explore how sketchbooks can be used as a rich resource, for recording and documenting pupils ideas and inspiration. Used effectively, sketchbooks can be embedded across the curriculum and can allow children to focus their thoughts, think creatively and reflect on their learning. This is a hands on, practical session, designed to give you the confidence to develop the use of sketchbooks in your own classroom.

Lou Sumray graduated from Goldsmiths in 1981. Since then she has worked in numerous school and community settings using drawing and visual art as a way of working with people of all ages. For Lou, "Drawing is a joy and the way I explore the world". She also carries at least one sketchbook wherever she goes.
