

Events

April 2019

Marketing Projects for Young People in the Arts and Cultural sector Tuesday 30 April 2019, 10:00 AM – 4:15 PM, Yorkshire Dance, Leeds

This practical and informative training session is designed to give you the confidence, skills and knowledge to effectively market your creative projects and programmes for young people.

Ideal for anyone marketing projects and programmes for young people in the creative, cultural and heritage sectors

Course places are £120 per person, including lunch, refreshments and a certificate of attendance for each delegate.

May 2019

Northern Music Education Hub Conference 2019 Wednesday 1 May 2019, 9:45 – 16:00, Leeds Town Hall

The 2019 Northern MEH Conference will focus on Workforce Development, Diversity and Digital – with the question running throughout of ‘What’s Stopping Us?’. You will have time to reflect on diversity and unconscious bias both within your organisation and in the work you deliver with, by and for children and young people. We will explore good practice examples from across a range of settings and consider how digital impacts on music in the wider world and what opportunities that might present for your work with children and young people. There will also be space for reflection, discussion and 'next steps' planning. Presenters include DJ School, Yorkshire Sound Women, John O’Hallahan (Calderdale College Music Dept), Nordoff Robins, Paul Whittaker, Ocean Sparks, Kycker, Miranda Arieah and others plus special performances from Park Community Academy Brass Band and a local SEND choir.

Hub leads from Northern Music Education Hubs are welcome to book two free places, for themselves and a colleague, in the first instance. More tickets per Hub may be available closer to the date of the event.

Measuring Impact: Evaluating projects with, for and by young people Wednesday 1 May 2019, 10:00 AM – 4:15 PM, Yorkshire Dance, Leeds

Designed to help you cultivate meaningful and beneficial modes of evaluating creative projects with young people, this course will guide you through creative examples and useful case studies as you prepare to develop and review your own evaluation processes and models. It is ideal for individuals and organisations developing and delivering projects for, with and by children and young people

Course places are £120 per person, including lunch, refreshments and a certificate of attendance for each delegate.