

LEEDS SCHOOLS' CHOIR UPDATE

Dear parents, carers and members of Leeds Schools' Choir,

We hope you're all keeping safe and well and that you've had a good summer break!

We have a short but important update about Leeds School's Choir; sadly Jayne Leadbeater has decided to step back from her role as Choir Director due to other demands. Jayne has worked with the choir for 20 years, and I know that many of you will be sad to hear that she's leaving as she has been a brilliant and much-loved choir leader. Jayne will miss you all and is disappointed that she didn't get to say a proper goodbye to you all last year.

Gaile Dawson, who you will all already know as the pianist for the choir, will be looking after the Leeds Schools' Choir and she says that she is so looking forward to seeing you all again when we can get back together.

Unfortunately we still don't have a confirmed date for returning to choir rehearsals, but we will keep you updated with what's happening when we know more. If you need to get in touch with Gaile, her email is gaile.dawson@leedseducationhub.co.uk.
